Moscow Presses Anew for Opening of Second Front

German Attempt To Encircle City Foiled By Soviets

Fighting Reaches Height of Fury With Enemy Suffering Terrific Losses in Killed and Wounded

DIVISION IS REPLACED

Moscow, July 15—(AP)—The Germans, stopped by a last ditch defense at the outskirts of Voronezh, have attempted to encircle the city but were repulsed on the north and hurled back on the south to the point where they crossed the Don river, Russian dispatches reported today.

The Russians said that a break-through accomplished by large numbers of fresh German troops and hundreds of tanks supported by a heavy artillery barrage had carried the invaders almost to the edge of the town before they were checked by the spirited Russian stand.

The dispatches did not give the location of the break through, but it was indicated that it occurred at the western approaches to Voronezh.

The Russians said that in forcing the Nazis back they recaptured a small railroad crossing and in another sector applied such strong pressure that the Germans fell back across a small bridge and destroyed it.

The fighting was described as reaching the height of its fury with German losses so terrific that the third German motorized infantry division, which appeared in the battle line only yesterday, was reported depleted and replaced by the new 16th motorized division after a single day of combat.

Invasion gains in the Voronezh area were declared to have cost Germany more than 35,000 men, killed and wounded, in ten days, and the Soviet information bureau tacitly brought up again the issue of establishment of a second front in western Europe by indicating German forces there are being weakened.

Third Attack Is Launched on Desert Front

Cairo, July 15—(P)—An Axis attack on Tel El Eisa with tanks and infantry, the third successive enemy assault on the British-held height in Egypt's corridor battle zone, was launched at dusk yesterday and lasted into the night, British headquarters announced today.

(A British military commentator said in London that the British withstood the attack which he described as on a "small scale." There was no indication that either the Axis or the British were ready to undertake a large offensive at present, he said.)

Again the RAF played a major part in the defense.

Lee is Winner in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, July 15—(P)—Josh Lee, 50-year-old senator and unopposed new deal champion, won Democratic renomination over nine opponents by a clear majority in unofficial returns from yesterday's primary election.

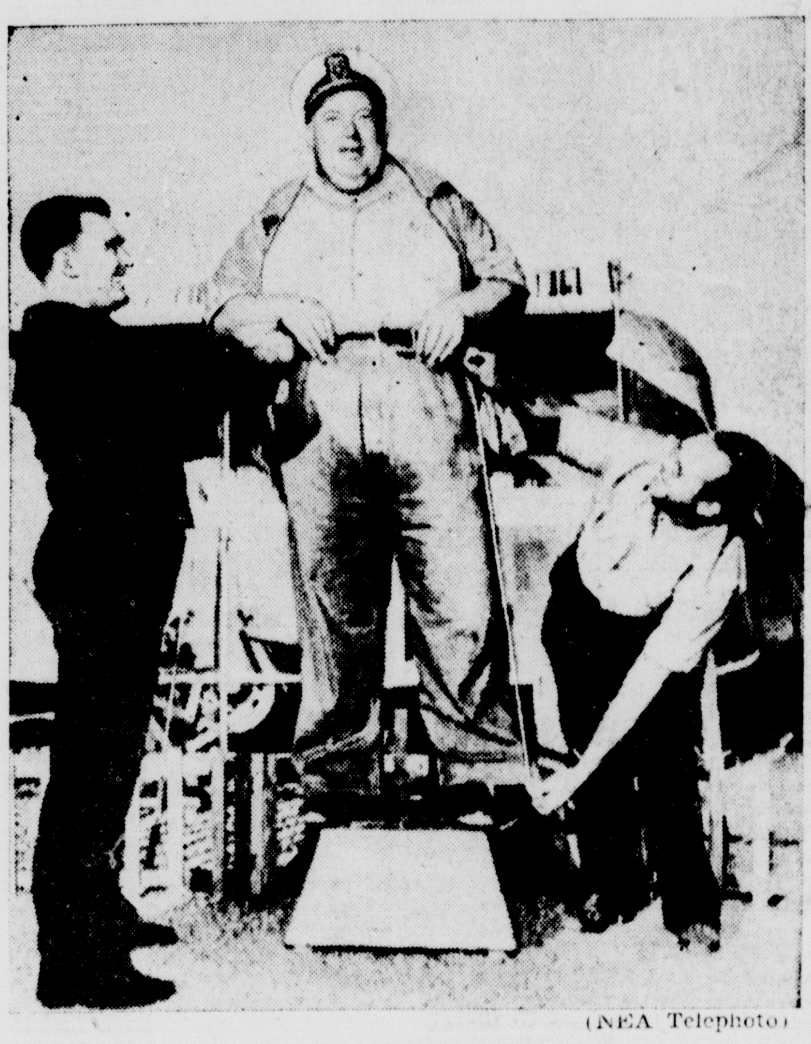

He defeated 72-year-old W. H. (Alfalfa) Bill Murray, former governor and congressman whose nest egg of rural votes failed to hatch.

Murray ran third behind Orel Bushy, who conceded Lee's renomination.

In 2,112 precincts out of 3,674, the count was Lee 96,753, Bushy 46,868, and Murray 19,821.

Republicans chose W. B. Pine, Okmulgee industrialist, to oppose Lee in the November general election. Pine served in the senate from 1925 to 1931.

President Lifts Pants Priorities

When priorities on cloth kept 336-pound M. R. Wolfkeil, a San Pedro, Calif., shipyard worker, from getting a new pair of work pants, he wired President Roosevelt about it. The President and the WPB quickly snipped the red tape and Wolfkeil, center, was measured for 12 yards of work clothes by San Pedro tailors.

58 County Men Report For Their Examinations July 25

Gas Supplies Are Declining

New York, July 15—(P)—Stores of gasoline in the United States continued to decline for the week ended July 11, the American Petroleum Institute reported today. Fuel oil supplies, however, rose slightly.

Stocks of finished and unfinished gasoline at the end of the week totaled 85,658,000 barrels, a decline of 1,356,000 from the 87,014,000 reported the previous week.

Residual fuel oil supplies increased by 988,000 barrels to 77,891,000 and gas oil and distillates (light fuels) increased 988,000 barrels to 34,418,000.

Inductees Will Have Fourteen Days Before Leaving For Reception Center

QUOTA IS NOT REACHED

Announcement was made today that 58 men have been notified by Local Board No. 2 to report on July 25 for final physical examination before being inducted into the armed forces of the United States under the selective service system.

Although the original July quota was 93 men from Local Board No. 2, it was stated that this number could not be obtained, because of lack of sufficient time to classify and examine the men locally.

Following their examination on July 25, the men will return home for 14 days before leaving for their reception center.

The quota assigned to Local Board No. 1 for July is 82 men. This group, scheduled to leave on July 24 for final examination, will be increased to 86 by the addition of four men transferred here for induction from other boards.

Following is the list of those who have been ordered to report for induction by Local Board No. 2:

Andrew Stonko, Sheffield; Harold Minor Johnson, Warren; Andrew Stinch, 732 Washington street, Meadville; Howard L. Rhoades, Pittsford; Kenneth Allen Frazier, R. D. 1, Warren; William George Byer, R. D. 1, Youngsville; Frederick William Egger, R. D. 1, Warren; Paul Edward Jones, R. D. 2, Tidouche; Joe Frank Miskic, R. D. 5, Corry; Paul Thomas Kujava, Sheffield; Thomas Francis Mile, Sheffield; Frank Francis Moroski, R. D. 1, Grand Valley; Arthur S. Toner, R. D. 1, Warren; Gilbert George Reynolds, R. Five Sent to Pen For Life From Mercer

Mercer, July 15—(P)—Four youths who pleaded guilty to killing a Sharpshooter trucking company dispatcher during an attempted holdup were sentenced to life imprisonment in Western Penitentiary today by Judge George H. Rowley.

The four were Charles W. Brown, 22, Lewis T. Osborn, 20, and Floyd S. Stainbrook, 20, all of Sharon, and William A. Johnannes, 20, of Youngstown, O. They received the sentence quietly. Osborn's mother collapsed and was assisted from the courtroom.

The young men described the holdup attempt at a court hearing held last month to determine the degree of guilt on murder charges.

Johannes said he fired the shot.

WAR BULLETINS

Berlin—(From German Broadcasts)—July 15—(P)—A dispatch from Milan today said next year's school term in Italy, beginning Oct. 1, would be interrupted from Dec. 15 to Feb. 15 in anticipation of lack of fuel to heat classrooms.

Tokyo—(From Japanese Broadcasts)—July 15—(P)—Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo, speaking at Osaka today, declared that the Soviet government had assured Japan that Russia's new treaty of alliance with Britain and her agreement with the United States contain no provisions regarding Japan.

Canberra, Australia, July 15—(P)—Air Minister Arthur Drakeford announced today that the Japanese have a new model Zero fighter in operation against Allied forces to the north of Australia.

London, July 15—(P)—Sir Andrew Rae Duncan, minister of supply, assured the house of commons of a "growing sufficiency" of munitions today in a speech which climaxed the second and final day of a debate on war production.

London, July 15—(P)—The main Japanese fleet probably is concentrating "in Japanese home waters" in the North Pacific as a result of the Coral Sea and Midway battle of May and June, official circles said today.

NEW RUBBER METHODS ARE DEVELOPED

President of Standard Oil Says Processes May Provide 34,000,000 More Tires Than Expected

Washington, July 15—(P)—W. S. Farish, president of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), said today the petroleum industry had developed two new methods of producing synthetic rubber which may provide by the end of next year 34,000,000 more automobile tires than had been expected.

In another congressional quarter, Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said he would press legislation to create an independent government rubber agency despite opposition from War Production Chairman Donald M. Nelson.

Farish told a house mines subcommittee that the new rubber methods may provide 200,000 tons of synthetic rubber in addition to the 800,000 tons already planned under the government's rubber program.

Tires from this additional rubber, Farish said, would go toward meeting essential civilian transportation needs.

Farish said that after experimenting with wooden tires, spring wheels and other tire substitutes, the automobile industry had reached the conclusion that for the present time there is no substitute for the rubber tire.

Charles M. Weis, a New York chemical engineer, gave the committee a report of a recent inspection of the Publicker Alcohol and Rubber Plant at Philadelphia.

Senator Thomas is a member of a senate agriculture subcommittee which heard testimony from Nelson yesterday. The group has approved a bill introduced by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), Thomas and others to create the independent rubber agency to push rubber production from grain alcohol.

Steel Workers Given Report On Demands

BY MARBEN GRAHAM

Pittsburgh, July 15—(P)—The "Little Steel" policy committee of the CIO United Steel Workers of America met today to hear their President Philip Murray report on the progress of their demands for a $1 a day wage increase and to discuss action in event the War Labor Board failing fails to meet the request.

Approximately 125 representatives of local unions from the far-flung mills of the Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland Steel Companies were called to the meeting.

Murray and his associates declined to speculate upon action by the delegates.

House Agrees On Farm Bill

Washington, July 15—(P)—The house today broke a two-month congressional deadlock on the agriculture department appropriation bill by agreeing to a senate proposal to allow sales of government-owned wheat at prices below parity.

After rejecting a new compromise proposal, the house accepted a senate demand, backed by President Roosevelt, that sales of government-owned wheat for livestock feed and industrial uses at 85 per cent of the parity price of corn—or about 85 cents a bushel—be allowed.

The compromise proposal, offered by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), would have set the minimum sale price for the wheat at full parity for corn, or about 97 cents.

Invasion Armada Ambushed At Midway Navy Report Says

Farmers Desperate for Wheat Storage Space

Kansas City, July 15—(P)—A western Kansas farmer looked unhappily at the biggest and best wheat crop in years then, in desperation, moved family belongings from his living room and filled it with the ripe grain. And so it goes throughout the grain belt.

Other farmers are using garages, steel tank, vacant store buildings or just letting the grain pile up on the ground.

All of the public elevators in terminal cities are full.

The Kansas wheat harvest alone this year will produce an estimated 175,000,000 bushels, compared with a normal yield of 147,000,000.

So they're turning homes, schools and hotels into bins for storing up the nation's vast wartime food supply.

Communiqué Gives First Detailed Account of American Victory in Pacific

ENEMY LOSSES HIGH

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 15—(P)—Japan's invasion armada run into an American ambush in the battle of Midway, official reports disclosed today.

A communiqué last night gave the first detailed account of the battle and a supplemental report told how a naval task force lay in ambush and struck hard with carrier planes when army and navy shore-based attacks had slowed the enemy fleet.

The great size of the armada sent to assault Midway in hopeful prelude to conquest of Hawaii was disclosed for the first time 80 ships. Official records gave this result of the battle:

Japanese losses—20 ships sunk or damaged including four aircraft carriers sunk and three battleships hit; 275 planes destroyed, and 4,800 men killed or drowned.

American losses, the 19,900-ton aircraft carrier Yorktown put out of action, the destroyer Hammann sunk, an undisclosed number of planes destroyed, and 92 officers and 215 enlisted men lost. Loss of the destroyer and damage to an aircraft carrier had been reported previously, but this was the first time their names were given.

The immediate result of the battle was that the safety of the vital Hawaiian area, the American west coast and the Panama Canal were at least temporarily secured.

The navy issued in exultant detail its first story of the "superb acts of devotion" mentioned by Prime Minister Churchill in parliament July 2, when he told for the first time that "from some successful attacks of Japanese control is 'the next thing over the horizon.'"

Testifying before the house small business committee, the cigar-smoking official painted a dismal picture of the plight of 24,000 small industrial enterprises and laconically added:

"To use the vulgar expression, you ain't seen 'nuthin' yet."

LAD WHO SHOT FATHER IS NOT REMORSEFUL

Reading, July 15—(P)—Fifteen-year-old Marshall Wittman, accused of shooting his father during an argument, will be tried on a charge of murder if his father dies, the district attorney's office disclosed.

The boy was taken to see his father, Robert Wittman, 58, at Allentown hospital last night and C. Wilson Austin, assistant district attorney, said the elder Wittman pointed out his son as his assailant.

Marshall "said nothing and didn't appear to be upset," at confronting his father, Austin said.

Warnings Are Being Ignored By Oil Users

New York, July 15—(P)—Coal interests said today a survey had disclosed that home owners in the eastern states affected by oil rationing virtually had ignored repeated government warnings to convert oil burners to coal units where possible.

Of nearly 750 fuel dealers canvassed from New England to Maryland, an average of only 2.9 conversions had been made thus far and the purchase of coal grates for later conversion had averaged 2.3 per dealer, it was shown by the survey. The average dealer has had but nine requests for information concerning conversion.

It was estimated that there were 1,250,000 oil burning homes in the affected area.

The survey showed that nearly 500 large dealers had notified their customers they would be unable to get 100 per cent of their requirements. The remainder of the total canvassed had not yet taken action.

1,600,000 Boy Scouts Are Collecting Scrap

New York, July 15—(P)—America's Boy Scouts—nearly 1,600,000 strong—today turned their scouting talent ferreting out scrap metal for the war effort.

Washington officials, pleased by the Scouts' record in collecting almost 30,000,000 pounds of scrap rubber, have asked the lads to locate scrap metal sources so that local salvage committees could meet war industries' need for 6,000,000 tons of it.

The Scout national council said the government expected the boys to discover in cellars and attics such forgotten or discarded articles as old beds, door knobs, keys, toys, tools and in fact anything made of iron, steel or non-ferrous metals.

Motorists Victims of 1942 Version of Gold Brick Sales

New York, July 15—A 1942 version of the old gold brick salesman is on the loose, and motorists on the gas-starved eastern seaboard are warned to watch out for him.

A canny chap, according to Queens County Assistant District Attorney Lawrence J. McGrath, plays hard to get but if you persist he'll sell you pills "guaranteed" to substitute for gasoline.

First complaint came yesterday from a driver who said another motorist pulled up at a filling station, put five gallons of water in to what appeared to be his fuel tank, dropped in several white pills and then drove away.

The fascinated witness drove off in pursuit, caught the pill-man and purchased five of the pills for $2. He went home and poured five gallons of water into his car's tank, added the pills and stepped on the starter.

JAPS MASSING LARGE FORCE LONDON SAYS

No Signs of Large Scale Nipponese Activity Elsewhere on Pacific Front at Present

BY DREW MIDDLETON

London, July 15—(P)—Soviet Russia was reported by qualified London sources today to be pressing anew for the prompt opening of a second, American-British European land front to divert the Nazi armies pounding at the gates of the vital Caucasus.

These sources, who insisted on anonymity, pointed out the eventual peril that Japan might open a second front in Siberia to distract the hurried Red army if the Nazis can set the stage for it.

An smashing victory for the German in the battle for the Caucasian approaches, they predicted, would be followed by a Japanese attack on Siberian Russia. Japan was said to have massed at least 24 divisions—about 360,000 men—in Manchukuo with air reinforcements from home.

August and September are the best months for campaigning in Siberia, according to these sources. They noted that there were no signs of large scale Japanese activity elsewhere on the Pacific front now.

Whatever the pros and cons, public sympathy for the reported renewed pleading of Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was demonstrated in mass meetings over the weekend at Glasgow and Liverpool which demanded both a new front and all aid for Russia.

Soviet strategists, whose names may not be mentioned, say they are not satisfied that the British air offensive, hampered lately by bad weather, is a heavy enough threat to divert German troops from the eastern front.

On the other hand, military sources here foresee a second front as more than just a big hit-and-run affair—one requiring exhaustive preparation.

That does not mean that they do not see "very grave possibilities" in the present Russian situation.

Although the Russians are being driven back, they said, there (Turn to Page Eight)

STRATEGISTS WORRIED

London, July 15—(P)—Soviet Russia was reported by qualified London sources today to be pressing anew for the prompt opening of a second, American-British European land front to divert the Nazi armies pounding at the gates of the vital Caucasus.

DEM STATE COMMITTEE MEETING AT CAPITAL

Haftrishburg, July 15—(P)—Members of the Democratic state committee's executive group gathered here today to discuss general plans for the November election campaign, and possibly to nominate two candidates for the state house of representatives.

The committee still has to fill several vacancies on the ticket but Chairman David L. Lawrence said action hinged on whether party leaders in the areas concerned had agreed.

Lawrence said no action would be taken on the nomination of a candidate for congress in Lackawanna county since the organization there hasn't submitted a recommendation. Rep. Patrick J. Boland died the day before his renomination at the May primaries.

Opposition to Tax Measure

Washington, July 15—(P)—Rep. Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking Republican member of the house ways and means committee, announced today he planned to vote to send the $6,144,000,000 revenue bill back to the committee for revision of proposed corporation taxes.

Joining Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) in an attack on corporate rates proposed in the bill, Treadway said in a minority report accompanying the big bill to the floor:

"It is a short-sighted policy which taxes business out of existence so that it can not continue to pay taxes to the government, maintain employment and sustain the communities wherein it is carried on."

Treadway and Knutson both expressed opposition to the proposed combined 45 per cent normal and surtax and the 87½ per cent excess profits rate. Knutson, saying the proposed rates were "arrived at through a series of trades and shameful logrolling," said he preferred rates of 40 and 94 per cent while Treadway said:

"The committee bill, in its present form, places too much of a burden on normal profits, and not enough on excess profits."

Truck Falls Over Wall at Intersection

The intersection of Poplar street and Fifth avenue was the scene of much excitement about ten o'clock this morning when a coal truck, operated by Budd Work, 27, of Strattonville, Clarion county, went over a stone wall and landed upside down after falling about 18 feet.

Taken to the Warren General Hospital, Work's condition was said to be good, although the full extent of his injuries was not learned.

Excited by the accident, neighbors in the vicinity called the police and fire departments, as well as an ambulance and the visiting nurse. While the driver was taken to the hospital in the Lutz ambulance, his injuries were not reported as serious.

The truck, which carried about two tons of coal, was damaged considerably in the fall.

Campaign For War Chest to End August 1

Elsewhere in this issue appears the results of the Warren County War Chest as received at the time of going to press, together with the announcement of the closing of the campaign August 1.

"When we think of the sacrifices being made by the men in active service," Mr. Clinger, Chairman of the County War Chest, stated, "through giving up their jobs, leaving their families at home and starting out for places unknown in the cause of democracy and equal rights and justice, the least we at home, who have our jobs and all the comforts and conveniences of home-life, can do is to help through the organized channels of the USO, by giving cheerfully our contributions to the War Chest."

"Many people have apparently put off until the last minute making their contributions," Mr. Clinger continued, "judging from the campaign results to date. We hope they will not delay longer and we expect Warren county, true to its past traditions, to fully meet its assigned quota by Aug. 1. However, we ask that all the good citizens of this county show their patriotism to their country through their loyalty to their own sons, fathers, and husbands by immediately forwarding to H. B. Meacham, treasurer, their freely given contributions to the Warren County War Chest."

"By helping to reach our County quota of $20,000, all of us will have the satisfaction and good feeling of knowing that at least in a measure our boys are enjoying the comforts and pleasures of a home at the front."

Local Staff Has Practice And Pictures

Members of the staff of the Warren civilian defense control center welcomed several newcomers at the regular practice session, held last evening. Approximately 40 persons were in attendance as the group went through simulated air raid incidents to acquaint staff members with proper procedure in case of actual attack.

Following the practice a film on the civilian defense set-up was shown, giving those present a better understanding of the warning system and the control center operation.

After the showing of the film, those present enjoyed a very fine lunch, provided through the courtesy of the local Moose Club and the Ladies of the Moose. F. W. Waite, commander of the control center, on behalf of himself and members of the staff, expressed sincere appreciation to the Moose members and ladies who made this lunch possible. This is the second time that the staff has enjoyed lunch served by a local club, the Elks having provided refreshments on the night of the recent blackout.

Another group of civilian defense officials inspected the control center here yesterday. They included William A. Lowrie, chair-

Finish Stone Base on One Lane of Road

With the expected completion today of the stone base on one lane of the new highway between Warren and Venturatown, motorists should find driving conditions there greatly improved, officials of the Tri-State Engineering Company reported today.

Work will be started immediately on the stone base for the second lane and this should be finished in about two weeks, it was stated.

Application of the bituminous surface, which will take about a week, should be finished shortly after the first of August, according to the announcement.

The new road, which connects the north end of Market street with the concrete pavement at Venturatown, will be 33 feet wide and will be a great improvement over the old macadam thoroughfare which is being replaced.

Company officials said that after today, the inconvenience of driving over the road will be greatly reduced, although motorists are still asked to use caution in driving there.

"BODY-COOLER"

Stewart Hartshorn, inventor of the window shade roller, has planned a body-cooler for hot weather. Bellows attached to the shoe soles pumped air through tubes extending to all parts of the body.

Final Plans For Program Here Are Set

With every member of the committee working hard to complete arrangements, Warren's observance of American Heroes Day which is to be held Friday evening under the auspices of the retail merchants here promises to be an outstanding event.

Stores and other business places in the borough will remain open during the evening for the purpose of selling U. S. War Savings Bonds and Stamps and it is expected that the sales on this occasion will help greatly in boosting the total for July, which has been designated as "Retailers for Victory" month.

Featuring the evening's program will be a concert by the massed bands of Warren under the direction of Harry Summers. This concert will start at 7:30 o'clock and will be held at the intersection of Liberty street and Second avenue.

Rationing Of Bicycles Is Delayed Here

Rationing of bicycles in Warren county, which was scheduled to have started July 9th, has been delayed indefinitely by the fact that no forms have been received at the local rationing board office for making application for the wheels or for issuing permits for their purchase.

Regulations governing the issuance of bicycle purchase certificates have been received by the local rationing board, as well as by a number of bicycle dealers. However, until the necessary forms are received, no bicycles may be sold.

According to information received here, eligibility for a certificate to purchase a new adult bicycle embraces anyone engaged in a gainful occupation or in work which contributes to the war effort or to the public welfare, if such an applicant can show that:

1. He must travel quickly or often to deliver merchandise or messages or in doing other work, and would be better able to do so by bicycle than by walking or using public transportation facilities; or

2. He has to walk a total of at least three miles in going to and returning from work, using the most convenient public transportation; or

3. He has to spend at least one and one-half hours, including walking and waiting time, in getting to and from his job, using public transportation, and could cut this time by at least 30 minutes with a bicycle; or

4. Available public transportation facilities are overcrowded; or

5. A bicycle is clearly needed because of other circumstances.

In addition, an applicant must show that he needs a bicycle at least three days a week and that he does not already have one that will serve his needs. Housewives and students are not eligible as such for bicycles. Children's bicycles do not come within the rationing program and their sale is limited by the supply, for they are no longer manufactured. Manufacture now is confined to adult, lightweight "war model" bicycles.

TIMES TOPICS

DEFENSE COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Warren County Council of Defense will be held in the council office, 311 Market street, promptly at 4 o'clock on Friday, July 17.

IN BUFFALO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Elizabeth Schimmelfeng, formerly of Clarendon, is reported a patient in the Buffalo General Hospital as the result of a fall last Saturday when she had the misfortune to break her hip. Her condition is said to be good.

IN HARRISBURG

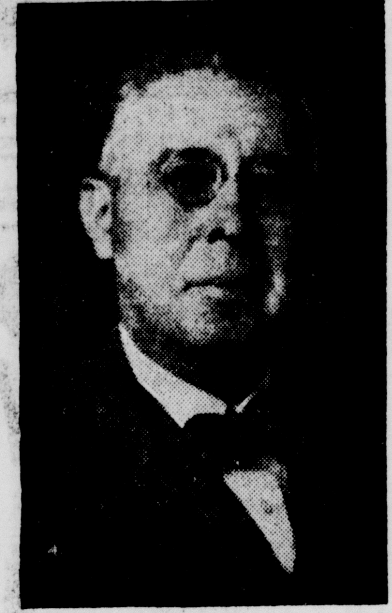

W. A. Walker, state Democratic committeeman from Warren county, and John Hanna, chairman of the Warren county Democratic committee, are in Harrisburg today to attend the meeting of the party's state committee.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Applications for marriage licenses have been filed with Register and Recorder O. E. Loper at the court house here by LeRoy Walter Ladd, of Elgin, and Ellen Grace Thompson, of Corry; Ralph Burdette Gross and Agnes F. Elizabeth Jamieson, of Warren.

WORKERS SIGN PLEDGE

A pledge to help "win the war for freedom" signed by workers of the National Transit Pump and Machine Company, of Oil City, has been transmitted to President Roosevelt by Chairman Emory S. Land of the Maritime Commission, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington. The pledge was signed by 613 workers. An announcement by the commission said the company manufactures propulsion engines and pumps being installed on ships of the victory fleet.

Featured above is E. Mark Sullivan, of Boston, Mass., who was unanimously elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks yesterday at the opening of the 78th national grand lodge session, being held in Omaha, Nebraska. A practicing attorney, Mr. Sullivan has been a member of the Elks since 1908 and he has held numerous offices in the order. The Elks convention will end tomorrow.

Local Men to Attend Meet For Defense

Officials of the Warren County Council of Defense will go to Harrisburg tomorrow to attend a check-up conference on Pennsylvania air raid protection system, called by national defense officials and army officials.

Those from here who will attend are Allen M. Gibson, chairman of the Warren County Council of Defense, and Peter C. Oestergard, vice-chairman.

James M. Landis, head of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense, will be accompanied by Brigadier General U. S. Grant, III, head of the OGD's civilian protection branch; Judge Rowland K. Adams, of Baltimore, director of the Third Civilian Defense region and other staff members.

Leaders of the state's county and local defense councils also were called to the session. Governor James will preside.

The program calls for addresses by Herbert L. Gutterman, chief of the War Production Board's general salvage section; Blanchard Randall, Jr., regional salvage manager for the WPB; Dr. A. C. Marts, director of the State Defense Council; Mrs. William Clothier, member of the state council, and spokesmen for the rubber and household fats conservation programs.

In another development, it was disclosed that special lighting equipment for vehicles moving during blackouts have been blocked by inability to obtain materials.

Captain T. N. Boate, chief of traffic control for the State Defense Council, said temporary regulations now in effect will be continued indefinitely.

Current rules, established for the recent dusk-to-dawn dimouts, provide that during partial blackouts, all vehicular traffic may move without restriction. In a complete blackout, only properly marked emergency vehicles with dimmed lights may be in motion.

UNPARDONABLE STUPIDITY

Even the connoisseur in bureaucratic stupidity finds it difficult to comprehend these customs officials who insisted that Canadian troops, rushing westward to help us repel the Japanese threat to Dutch Harbor and Alaska, must pay duty on spare uniforms and military equipment before they could cross the border, says S. Burton Heath in a stinging editorial written for NEA and the Times-Mirror.

The Japs seized two of the Aleutian islands, which have held for a month and whence they have moved on to a third. But that didn't faze the treasury representatives. They stood by their guns and asked Washington for a ruling.

Lawyers juggled ponderous tomes and checked cross references. Sure enough, they found, Canadian troops can't come into the U. S. to help us against blitzkrieging Japs unless they pay duty.

The State Department was asked to assist. The Japs were coming, but the revenue law was well drawn. It had no loopholes.

Fortunately old Judge Hull of Tennessee was around. In fact, he was head of the Department of State. With tongue in cheek, we have no doubt, Judge Hull gravely dictated a two-page memorandum explaining that the Canadian soldiers were distinguished visitors and, as such, were entitled to waiver of duties.

The situation was saved. But the stupidity — what gross bureaucratic ineptitude!

No wonder the heroes of Bataan, Singapore and Burma, when they land on our shores, protest that:

"This is a bloody war and the people at home don't seem to know it."

No wonder Lieut. William M. Bower, who helped to bomb Tokyo, took off his gloves when he addressed Cleveland Kianians who had been worrying whether to enjoy a half-day picnic or an all-day boat ride.

The boys at the front aren't having picnics, said he. He wants to go back to the fighting front, where the men realize that wars aren't won with boatrides, vacations from the production lines, battles over parity prices, 70-mile an hour joy-riding on irreplaceable rubber tires, attempts to collect duties from soldiers coming to our assistance in time of peril.

"Hell," says a wounded officer from the Far East, "we haven't begun to win the war yet, and we're talking about how we will set down the peace terms."

"We've got to get down in the mud and fight like hell, and believe me, we've got to do it pretty soon."

And cut out the boondoggling."

SOUND ARGUMENT

The folks outside the gasoline rationing area have a sound argument when they say, in effect: "If it is rubber they want to save, how about just taking the tires? Why let us wear them out bit by bit, controlled through gasoline rationing, if we prefer to do our non-essential driving all at once and then walk or ride horses until the war is over?"

Experts admit that the straightforward course, and the efficient one would be to expropriate what mileage remains in tires and use it for the good of the nation. But that is a risky course, perhaps foolhardy politically. So the problem won't be solved that way. Nationwide gasoline rationing will be tried, instead.

Council is to meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of considering and taking action on an ordinance for vacating of Chestnut street, to provide for the expansion of the Struthers-Wells Co. plant. That's the kind of speed up we like to hear about.

The Warren Lodge of Moose very thoughtfully sent a delicious lunch to the staff at the Control Center last evening. First it was the Elks to provide similar refreshments the night of the blackout. Who's next?

Many stores will be open Friday evening, but for the sole purpose of selling War Savings Stamps and Bonds, so take along your pocketbooks when you go over town to hear the concert by the massed bands.

A delightful drop in temperature accompanied those "probable scattered thundershowers" predicted Tuesday, which, incidentally failed to materialize.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Break Through

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Capital in Wartime:

How-times-have-changed note—Senator McNary, minority leader of the Senate, protesting against immediate vote without prolonged debate of the $43,000,000 Army appropriation bill:

"I recall the argument made here by a very dear friend of all of us, now gone, the late Sen. (Pat) Harrison, when he stated on the floor that we could not pass the $45,000,000 (debt) limit without impairment and dislocation of our economic structure. I recall the very distinguished and able conservator of public funds and resources and credit, the distinguished senator from Virginia (Mr. Byrd) pleading over and over again that our appropriations NOT go beyond 50 or 60 billion dollars. But now in one fell swoop, the Senate is asked to pass a bill appropriating $43,000,000,000 without reading it, without knowing anything about it."

"In the name of decency, out of respect to orderly procedure, we should have at least one day to consider a bill proposing to appropriate $43,000,000,000."

So the senators were given 24 hours to peruse the bill and the 92-page report on its various phases—the largest appropriation ever considered by the United States—and according to Senator McNary, "quite a bit larger than ALL the expenses of the last war, 25 years ago."

FOR the first time in history, one of our insular possessions—Puerto Rico—has hired a "public relations counsel." He is John Lear, former Associated Press correspondent who for more than two years has been concentrating on the Latin American scene.

Lear is now a government employee, his position and salary stipulated in the budget of the governor of Puerto Rico, that well known New Dealer of depression days, Rexford Guy Tugwell.

John certainly has his work cut out for him. Few weeks pass when Bolivar Pagan, the P. R. resident commissioner, or some one else doesn't write into the Congressional Record an essay on the general theme, "why the people of Puerto Rico don't want Tugwell for governor."

The political situation in our "Gibraltar of the Caribbean" is quite a mess. If it straightened out, you can bet on it that Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines will also be asking for "public relations counsels."

THE taxi drivers of Washington are almost as famous as the Monument. You'll get their life histories, political opinions, and comments of the day quicker than you can pass a zone line. They may be anything from Harvard graduates to pre-repeller run-runners, and in either instance, proud of it.

Tops on the dumb side of the ledger came the other day from the slightly blank-looking hack driver who went white when he saw the headlines of a newspaper his customer had just purchased. "What," he screamed, "the nazis are 60 miles from Alexandria. I gotta get home. Alexandria's (Va.) where I live."

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Something has gone out of the Broadway scene that meant a lot to bridge players. These were the trick hands and problems in contract bridge printed each week in the playbills of new shows. Almost always they were impossible hands, the solution of which lay only in the promiscuous sacrifice of Aces and Kings. They called for a sort of scorched earth policy which enabled, eventually, some insignificant troy to take the winning trick.

FOR a decade these hands were a feature in the playbills of all new dramas, revues, and comedies that hit the street. Sometimes their authors—ranking experts—offered books on bridge to the first half dozen who submitted the correct solutions. You could spot bridge addicts throughout the audience with their pencils, checking off finesses and organizing attacks.

For the first time since I can remember these hands have been omitted from the 1942 playbills. It is a sad omission. You see people thumbing hurriedly through the programs, a worried and apprehensive look on their faces that finally dissolves into baffled disappointment. You think this is an exaggeration? You don't know how seriously people take bridge around here.

CORRECTION: Recently this corner reported a discussion on brettas that took place in the offices of one of Broadway's leading producers. A brettia is a head-dress or square official cap worn by Roman Catholic ecclesiastics.

We fell into the error of saying that cardinals wore brettias but that cardinals did not. This misfortune came from a house that deals exclusively in accoutrements of the church, which also added that there was but one canon at the present time in the United States.

The result of this has been communications from good people in all sections of the country, setting us right. There are four cardinals in the U. S., not one. Cardinals do indeed wear brettias. One correspondent sent us a picture of a cardinal blessing a boat, saying, "The enclosed photo proves that he definitely does wear a brettia—it's on his head."

Another pointed out the differences in brettias, which vary in color according to rank, and a third said, "A cardinal does not wear the 'Red Hat' as the symbol of his rank at the time his title is officially conferred upon him by the Pope. However, he never wears this hat, but after his death it is hung in the sanctuary of his cathedral provided he is a bishop or archbishop. A cardinal always wears the brettia."

Attack

ATTACK, the first publication for civilian consumption produced by the War Department Bureau of Public Relations, made its appearance this month in conjunction with the opening of the Army War Shows and Expositions which will be held in 15 large eastern and midwestern cities this summer.

Primarily a pictorial, the 56-page booklet sets forth the American way of fighting. "Attack is the American philosophy of war," it states. "It is the heritage of our new army, handed down to us by several generations of heroic fighting men. Attack has been the doctrine of all great American commanders since General George Washington crossed the icy Delaware river Christmas night, 1776."

The booklet brings the story of

WHIRLY CAN CLAIM MONEY TITLE TODAY

Boston, July 15.—(P)—Whirlaway may give the horse laugh to the so-called Seabiscuit in the $50,000 - added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs today.

The four-year-old son of the English Derby-winning Blenheim II needs only $27,244 to equal the record earnings of $437,730 that Seabiscuit piled up during his six years of campaigning.

And he can get it if he can out-foot seven rivals to the wire for the $44,850 winner's share of the richest purse of the current season for handicap horses.

Whirlaway tangles with some real speed. The wizard-like touch of Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons has added. "Well, would you mind waiting a minute while Joyce comes up? There's something I want to give her."

"All right," Thorndike said. "I'll let you out there."

He stopped in front of the entrance, which was partly blocked off, and reached over to open the door. Joyce and Delia got out and hurried across the sidewalk.

"Do you mind?" Delia asked. "I just had to talk to you a minute and Uncle Dean won't care."

They went up the stairs silently to the second floor. Delia had her key and by the time they reached her door and, unlocking it, stepped across the threshold into darkness. Joyce was right behind her and light from the hall spilled past them and she saw Delia reach for the wall-switch just ahead.

There was no warning for what happened next, no sound, no intuitive suggestion, nothing. One moment Delia's hand was reaching for the switch; the next the hand had stopped in mid-air and a gruff, deep voice with a snap to it shattered the still blackness ahead of them.

"L. A. touch it and don't scream!"

The Envelope

JOYCE froze and for the next instant a detached and separate part of her, so that although her body was stiff and incapable of movement, her brain raced and her perceptions were sharp, clear, and detailed.

Aside from the immediate shock she felt no great fear but only incredulity. Delia had recoiled with the command; now she was like a statue, poised but motionless, her hand fixed in mid-air. Beyond there was nothing but blackness. From it came the next command.

"Put your hand down!"

Slowly, as though with an intense muscular effort, Delia lowered her hand.

"Good. Now come forward. Slowly. Leave the door open so I can see you." The voice was still low, pausing briefly and then snapping out at them. "Move."

For the first time Joyce felt real fear. She had to obey quickly; Delia too. She closed up behind the girl and put both hands above her hips, guiding her forward as she moved.

"Do as he says, darling."

"Stop there!" the voice commanded. "Good. I'm going down the hall and out the back door. Just remember I can see you all the way. Stand still and stay quiet and you'll be all right."

JOYCE could hear the man moving now, the soft slide of his feet across the rug. Try as she might she could not penetrate the darkness and presently even the sound of him was gone.

The next minute was like an hour. She could hear her own breathing; she could hear Delia. There was even time for her thoughts to slide off on a tangent and wonder what might have happened had Dean Thorndike come up with them for that drink.

The sound of a door closing was loud and startling and even when the silence came again and she knew the man had gone it took her a second or two to force herself to move.

"He's gone," Delia breathed.

"Yes," Joyce said, and turned to the wall switch and snapped it on.

The light was momentarily blinding and she stood blinking at it. Delia was looking at her, her face white and strained, her eyes more startled than afraid. Seconds went by before either of them moved again and then Joyce noticed the secretary. The drawers were pulled part-way out; so was one in the table.

"The envelope!" Delia said. "The envelope!" she turned and started for the hall.

Forge Stages Seventh Inning Rally to Stop Stoneham in Loop Go

SIMON PURES OPEN PLAY IN STATE EVENT

Stoneham held a one-run advantage over the National Forge for two innings last night, kept the ball game knotted until the fifth, and pressed the first half Sunset League champions for the verdict until the seventh, only to burst wide open in that inning and give up four runs which settled the issue in a contest that was close and an eye-fall over half the route.

The Forgers won their 12th contest of the season, eighth in the league, with a 9-1 final count on Russell Field last evening, but only inexperience on the part of their victims left them on the unbeaten list today.

Gordon "Smokey" Bennett toed the rubber for Stoneham against the Irvine clouters, ratiomed them to but five hits in six innings and one unearned run.

In the seventh, however, the Forgers plated four tallies, two of them coming on an error, and continued with two more markers in the eighth to compile their total.

Frequent opportunities to score were snuffed by the losers because of inexperience in base-running and clutch-hitting, but a fair sized crowd of some 150 fans credited the Bennettmen with making a creditable stand even in defeat.

"Diz" Hines was the winning pitcher, but he gave up eight hits in six frames and was replaced by Frank Kulick at the start of the seventh, with the southpaw finger allowing but one more safety in his three-inning trick.

Tonight Stoneham continues against "Rabbit" Swanson's State Hospital nine in a battle to evade the cellar. The two teams have split in two games played thus far. Tonight's contest on Russell Field is set for 6:15 o'clock.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Chapter 20
Man In The Dark

HE'S going to telephone first," Fenner said. "He'll make a call, either to come for the envelope or ask you to meet him somewhere." He glanced at Delia, still smiling. "Either way is okay. You'll tell him you'll deliver and when you do I'll be somewhere around. After that I'll see what happens; maybe I'll have an angle."

"But you mustn't take it away from him," Delia said, alarm striking at her eyes. "He could tell go to the police."

"I know," Fenner said. "But I'm not worried about what he'll do until the time comes. After I find out who the guy is and what he does with the envelope we'll figure out the next step."

"Oh," Delia said. "You follow him?"

"We'll find some way. What's our address?"

Delia gave it and Fenner wrote it down. "I'll be there at eleven sharp in the morning. Okay?"

JOYCE gathered her things, exchanged glances with Delia, said, "Well—" and started to rise.

Fenner got up with them, reaching for the remainder of his drink.

"Why don't you finish it?" Joyce asked. "Well, run along, but here's no need for you to come if you'd like to stay."

Fenner gave her a grin of appreciation. "All right. I can do my thinking here as well as any place."

"Thanks, Jack," Joyce said. "Good night. See you at eleven sharp."

They left the room and turned down the long corridor.

"Now what do you think?" Joyce asked.

"I'm glad we came," Delia said. "You were right. He will know what to do. He's so—well, I hardly know what to say. I've never known anyone quite like him. There's something about him—something compelling that makes me feel like shivering inside when he looks at you a certain way, and at I think I like him. I—I'm not quite so worried as I was."

"Oh there's Uncle Dean."

They were in the main lobby now and Dean Thorndike was coming towards them from the direction of the elevators. An instant later he spotted them and waved.

"Well," he said, as he removed his hat, "what brings you here? But for a drink all by yourselves?"

JOYCE hesitated, feeling Delia's delong glance and deciding not to mention Jack Fenner. The same would mean nothing to Thorndike and if he found out they'd been meeting a private detective there would be other things he'd want to know. If Delia wanted to explain well and good, if not—

"We had just one," she said, and she could ignore the awkward silence no longer.

"I had to drop by and see a fellow," Thorndike said. "Thanks, no," Joyce said. "If you want to drive us home," Delia said, "I might be able to do something for you."

"You came in a cab?" Thorndike said. "All right, I'll run you."

"Don't Scream"

THEY stood under the lighted marquee while he went for his car. It was drizzling now and the assive doorman stood by with a umbrella until Thorndike drove up.

Although they rode three in the front there was little said until Thorndike slowed down and asked for a parking space in front of Delia's apartment house. "Will you come up for that

Honor Burns And Caffery This Evening

The National Forge Baseball Club will honor Bill Caffery and Eddie Burns this evening with a dinner at the Marconi Outing Club at 6:30 o'clock.

The banquet will be in the form of a farewell dinner for the two standouts in the Irvine lineup. Caffery leaving a week from Friday for the navy and Burns expects to go next Monday into the marine corps.

The club management announced today that it was impossible to this evening because it was not definite that both would leave until yesterday.

Players, and those closely affiliated with the two players in the past, are expected to attend the dinner tonight.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

It must be tough on Bradford sports fans this summer to keep looking through the horroroscope at the Bradford Bees. The kids are trying to move up the PONY ladder, but unlike Jamestown and some of the other league members, Manager Jack Burns can't just whistle and receive a new infielder, outfielder, or pitcher. And there's not a town in this sector that likes its winners and supports them better than Bradford. It's seen the best scholastic grid teams come and go, possessed one of the best basketball quintets in the history of the Northern League last winter and won the Governor's Cup in the PONY League playoffs in '41. But 1942 has thus far been the showdown in baseball. It's too bad, but we're glad it is happening to a town like Bradford, which can bear to have a loser for a year or two, and still support it well enough so that the team can make expenses. Nice goin', Bradford, if more communities, including our own, possessed this quality, what a sports center this area could have! Meanwhile, we've called on the house detectives to tell us why fans are shrinking away from the Sunset League games when these statistics show what kind of ball games have been seen thus far. The season opener was a 3-3 tie, Stoneham and the Eagles splitting honors. There have been five one-run decisions: Stoneham over Eagles, 5-4; Stoneham over Hospital, 5-4; Forge over Hospital, 2-1; Eagles over Stoneham and Eagles over Hospital, 2-1. Two two-run margins: Hospital over Eagles, 12-10, and Eagles over Hospital 6-4. And one three-run margin, Forge over Hospital, 4-1, in 16 games played. That's nine contests that have ended with the winner having no greater than a three-run margin.

Hall of Fame Dept. . . Pittsburgh Manager Frankie Frisch is famous for being thrown out of ball game after ball game in the course of a season. . . The Yankees' Joe McCarthy is famous for producing champions. . . The Dodgers' Leo Durocher is famous for his opinion of night baseball, thus: "It's like being a burglar. You sit around all day waiting for it to get dark so you can go to work!" . . . Today's day Whirlaway may or may not succeed Seabiscuit as the turf's leading money-winner of all-time. . . Whirlaway, who has won $404,436, is shooting at the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap, and if he wins, he'll surpass the "Biscuit's" mark of $437,730. . . It's a cinch that the next time Bob Schussler takes the mound for the State Hospital, quite a following of Sunset Leaguers will be on hand. . . Not in condition and going the distance for the first time this season last Monday night, Bob gave a remarkable mound exhibition. . . And the loss took no glory away from him. . . It's said when he came in off the mound when it was all over, that Bob confessed the Flock had him ready for bed by the fifth, but he's got the kind of heart that makes baseball players keep plugging along, and several fans marveled at that quality. . . In the second half race in the Penn State Association, a peculiar situation arose in the standings yesterday when Johnstown was leading the league with 7 wins and 6 losses, Washington and Butler were tied with seven wins and the same number of defeats, and Oil City was in the cellar with six wins and seven setbacks, one game behind the leader.

Center Trims Sons of Italy In City Loop

The Recreation Center continued to steamroll over its City Softball League opponents last night with a 17-4 decision over Sons of Italy.

Zingone hit two home runs and George Cheres had one for the winners, his circuit coming with the bases jammed, and Andrea hit a round-tripper for the losers.

Ed Sequist gave only four hits in the rout, while the winners tagged Vito Greto for 19.

Tonight the Center takes on Struthers-Wells in a battle which will mean a share of first place for the latter crew if they win.

Pittsburgh, July 15.—(P)—When Frankie Frisch, boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, called attention to the 26 players in uniform—more than the rules allow—on the Brooklyn Bench, Dodger Manager Leo Durocher silenced him by sending Outfielder French Bordagaray to sit with the Bucs, who are one player short.

Brooklyn's over supply of talent was caused by the arrival of Max Macon, Montreal southpaw. He still is the property of the Royals but was wearing a Brooklyn suit.

Chicago, July 15.—(P)—You can't convince young Bob Wilson, son of Cub Manager Jimmy Wilson, that the veteran Jimmy Foxx has lost his hitting power. Young Bob was struck by one of Foxx's line smashes yesterday while pitching in batting practice. X-ray pictures showed the right arm was broken.

Augusta, Ga., July 15.—(P)—Wally Schang, former New York Yankee catcher, has been named manager of Augusta's South Atlantic League club.

Camp Wheeler, Ga., July 15.—(P)—Soldier Cecil Travis, former Washington Senator infielder, is sporting a beautiful "shiner" and some stitches across his nose. The discolored eye and gashed nose resulted when an unruly grounder got away from him. The post hospital said he would watch his army team-mates from the bench for several days.

Wage Control is Discussed by Henderson

(From Page One) Asked by Rep. Bulwinkle (D-NC) if the price control structure was in danger of cracking, Henderson replied: "Yes."

He gave no specific reason, but intimated lack of finances to enforce the price control law as he deems necessary and inability to pay subsidies to business to help keep the living costs stable were among the causes for his fears.

Congress has shown an inclination to cut the pending appropriation for the Office of Price Administration sharply and to refuse to approve subsidy payments to offset increased costs of items required for civilian use.

Invasion Armada Ambushed at Midway, Navy Report Says

After the Coral Sea victory of May 4-May 8, the navy said, the high command decided the enemy's next thrust would be directed against some other section of America's defenses—Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal or the Pacific Coast.

Consequently U. S. Naval forces were deployed along the 1,700 mile front between Midway Island and the Aleutians in the North Pacific. Throughout the danger area, bases were reinforced with long-range, land-based aircraft.

Steel Workers Given Report on Demands

(From Page One) Although the Labor Board's fact-finding panel had reported the four steel companies were able to pay the $1 a day boost, WLE sources for some time have been saying the board is opposed to anything near that much.

Murray was understood to have a pretty good idea of just how the board feels, since labor has representatives on it, including Clinton S. Golden, of the USWA and R. J. Thomas, president of the Auto Workers Union.

ANOTHER SINKING

Washington, July 15.—(P)—The navy announced today that a medium-sized United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed in the Caribbean and that survivors had landed at an east coast port.

Neither the oil men nor the general public in this area, however, are convinced that nationwide rationing is necessary.

WOMAN—Widow or married. Woman without encumbrances. Age 30 to 45. Permanent position. Good pay and opportunity to advance. For personal interview write Mrs. Esther Hudson, Personnel Manager, Box 473, care this paper.

FIVE RIDE SPEEDBOAT OVER DAM IN RIVER

Pittsburgh, July 15.—(P)—Three men and two boys rode a speedboat over the dam at Lock No. 2 on the Allegheny river near Highland Park—and lived to tell about it.

And that, according to veteran rivermen, is the first time such a thing has happened.

The boat, speeding along at 40 miles an hour, shot over the dam and dropped 15 feet to the water below. Half-swamped, the boat was pulled from the swift under-way by another boat.

Gas Supplies Are Declining

(From Page One) tion from the week was 3,657,400 barrels, an increase of 360,250 from the previous week.

Refineries operated at 76.5 per cent of capacity, indicating a crude run averaging 3,582,000 barrels daily compared with 75.8 and 3,551,000 in the previous week.

Gasoline production for the week was estimated at 10,675,000 barrels compared with 10,959,000 last week.

New Rubber Methods Are Developed

A majority of oil men seem to think that such rationing is inevitable and that it will become effective in the next three or four days, despite strong political pressure against it.

Neither the oil men nor the general public in this area, however, are convinced that nationwide rationing is necessary.

Mary Jamieson and David Beaty, III, to Marry This Summer

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Jamieson, of "Sunnybrook", Conewango avenue extension, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to David Beaty, III, of Warren and Miami, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Beaty, 312 Conewango avenue.

Miss Jamieson was graduated from St. Margaret's School in Waterbury, Conn., in June.

Mr. Beaty attended the Adirondack-Florida School and was graduated from Loomis School, Windsor, Conn., in 1939. He also attended the University of Virginia. Mr. Beaty is at present an army instructor at the Embury-Riddle School of Aviation at Miami, Fla. The wedding will take place in the late summer or early fall.

Social Events

AT COUNTRY CLUB
There will be a buffet supper served Saturday at the Conewango Valley Country Club after the Red Cross Benefit golf match for members of the club and out of town people.

A buffet supper will also be served Sunday at 6:30 o'clock. Members are asked to have reservations in for both days not later than Friday evening.

MARTHA SOCIETY
The Martha Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold a picnic dinner at 1 p. m. Friday at Warr-Penn Park. Each one to bring a turkey, table service and sandwiches. Those desiring transportation should call Mrs. Emmett Ecklund, 1098-J. It is announced that in case of rain, the meeting will be held in the church.

TRUTH SEEKERS
Truth Seekers of the First Presbyterian church, with their families, will have a picnic at six o'clock Thursday evening at the Peel cottage and each family is asked to bring a turkey, sandwiches or rolls, sugar and table service.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY
The Women's Missionary Society of the Salem Evangelical church will hold its monthly business and social meeting tomorrow noon in the form of a picnic at the home of Mrs. Fred Rosentrater, Mead street.

GARDEN CLUB PICNIC
Sugar Grove, July 17—The annual picnic meeting of the Hill and Dale Garden Club will be held Wednesday, July 22. Members have been requested to meet at the home of Mrs. Scott Stuart.

LOYAL HELPERS
The Loyal Helpers Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will have a picnic supper at 6:30 p. m. Friday at Warr-Penn Park and all are invited.

COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Peterson and son, of Hertz street, are enjoying a Canadian fishing trip.

Mrs. Edward Nicklas and son, Dickie, of Washington, D. C., are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Young, West Third avenue.

Mrs. Nicklas is the former Miss Alice Hampson, of Warren.

Without specifying the exact locality, the information bureau said Soviet soldiers had repulsed an enemy drive and followed this up with a counterattack.

Soviet soldiers defending the big bend country south of Boguchar, on the Don 130 miles below Voronezh, after a series of withdrawals eastward 150 miles or so from the Kharkov sector, were reported to have stopped a regiment of Nazi infantry and wiped out more than 700 of its effectives.

Although the Red army counter blows in the Voronezh area were increasing in force, Soviet dispatches pointed out that there was no reason for easy optimism as to the city's fate. They said the Germans hourly were sending fresh troops across the Don to develop the battle spreading out on the east bank.

Here's a sensible way TO GET OUT OF DEBT

See Personal for a loan of $10 to $250 or more. Use the money to pay off your debts right away. Then repay Personal in monthly amounts you can afford comfortably.

A loan to pay off credit doesn't put you deeper into debt. It simply adjusts to a cash basis the debts you already have. We don't believe that folks should borrow unless a loan is the best solution to their problem. If it is, Personal makes loans on signature, furniture, or auto. Outsiders not involved. Come in or phone us today.
